'Wow! What could this mean?'"

Telling a Good Story

Dear friends and family,

How many of us grew up loving the chance to hear a good story?

The newly renovated TWR studios in North Carolina (following last year's fire) have been active with people training, practicing and recording audio dramas for use around the world. Last week David, as part of a crowd scene, was 'eye-witness to Jesus' healing.' The audio drama is part of the PANI (Pakistan, Afghanistan, North India) project to cover unreached minority people groups in China with God's message of hope. This tool for teaching stories of the Bible in ESL (English as a Second Language) format fulfills a desire of the people located in this area.

Flora: "I had a wonderful time with my former Project Hannah teammates over lunch yesterday! What amazing healing we saw God perform in women's lives around the globe through PH!"

A Story of Honor Changes a Life

Jesus instructs us to be an honorable people which includes honoring our father and mother. With this in mind, read the following astounding impact a TWR Bible story makes in a highly family-honoring Muslim home in West Africa.

"...your message about the crisis between Jacob and his brother Esau taught me a lot. Because my brother had accepted to abandon Islam, the religion of our parents, I had denied and banished him from our lineage. When I listened to your program on this story, I thought of my brother and I decided first to forgive him and then encouraged other family members to forgive him too as I am the eldest of our family."

Prayer & Praise

- Praise God with us that after several years of searching, a new Finance Director has been found for TWR Africa. Pray for her to quickly learn the many details of the position and establish good relationships with her coworkers.
- Please pray for the health of the 26-year-old daughter of our HR director in Africa.
- Continue to pray for God's protection over the Oasis Transmitter project expanding broadcasting into Nigeria. Pray for wisdom and provision for the team preparing the transmitter.

Blessings dear ones,

David & Flora Rittenhouse
