

...waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ. Titus 2:13

Kalman & Annamarie Dobos
kdobos@twr.org

January 2020

Dear Ones,

While writing this letter during the Advent season and reviewing the major events of 2019, I find myself pondering on the lyrics of the song "Sovereign Over Us" by Michael W. Smith. Indeed, the LORD is faithful forever, perfect in love and sovereign over us. These truths reverberate all over the Bible in so many contexts, infusing hope into us.

In October, my father, at age 94, has finished his earthly pilgrimage three years after my mother's passing. He had a beginning stage of Alzheimer's disease that was a blessing in a way; his thoughts did not linger on not having his beloved wife around even though time after time he asked about her whereabouts. Now both are waiting for the next chapter of world history, the second coming of Christ in glory according to His wonderful promise. As for their seven children, scattered on two continents, pray, that we may all be found faithful in loving the Lord, taking Him and His Word seriously as if following in their footsteps.

God answered prayers concerning TWR's software project by sending us Christian, whom I know from the Python programming class I had audited at The Master's University. He had graduated in May and was able to join our team in October for a month. Much was accomplished during his short time with us, so we praise the Lord for him and pray for His purposes to unfold in his life.

We enjoyed representing TWR among the students of The Master's University again during their Global Outreach Week. Then we had the privilege of participating in the Missions Conference at The Oak, a mission-minded church in Central Illinois that has been our partner since the very beginning of our missionary journey.

The Lord has guided and sustained each of us according to His gracious plans, and we look upon Him with expectancy as we start this new year. Thank you for having been His tool, praying for us and providing the means for our continued participation in His Kingdom work for His glory.

In Him,

Kalman & Annamarie