The Call

Special Points of Interest:

- TWR Bonaire broadcasts in 6 languages to 100 million people via their own studio and transmitter for Shine 800 AM.
- Bonaire, an island municipality of the Netherlands, lies off Venezuela's coast in the southern Caribbean.
- To be an effective missionary aside from ensuring clear transmission on the AM and FM broadcasts, I will be learning to speak, read and write Papiamentu and Dutch.

Dear friends,

I am here in Sanford, Florida, for a Sharpening Your Interpersonal Skills (SYIS) workshop being hosted by Ethnos 360. SYIS is a biblically-based training in communication and other skills to promote unity in team environments and increase our awareness of how we impact others that all TWR appointees attend. As I write, it is middle of the third day, and I feel both much better equipped and also humbled by the monumental task of self-observation and the need for dependence on the Holy Spirit in all relational situations. The schedule is full and I am praying for God to be speaking to other members of my 'home team' who have not yet made a decision to actively partner with me through prayer and/or financial support. Why the concern? Because the Bonaire team needs me there in September to begin training and there is a gap of $950/month in my financial partnerships. I have been blessed so much by God already that I feel completely at ease now just 'complaining' to Him, not because I do not trust Him, but just to let Him know how I feel. He is our Heavenly Father after all and so many times I fail to understand how this works as a mere person struggling day to day. I seemed to have allocated all the scriptures that describe how we ought to bring our requests before God to very large emergencies and more often about other people's emergencies, because they seem larger to me, while ignoring all the day to day issues that actually freeze me from being productive. Why has this suddenly changed? I suppose I've tasted and seen that the Lord is good! Again and again.

First, I was concerned about how to sell my home and then to whom. In prayer, very specific answers were given in a miraculous way and my house sale closes July 20th. I needed a home for my precious dog, Button, and that has been provided! One day I asked God just for encouragement about His plan in regards to finances and the very next morning I was provided a good increase in support! I had worried about when to end my employment. If I had delayed even a day, I would be so far stretched that I do not know how I would have accomplished things that needed to be done before this week of training. I had stress about ending my job too early, but I will not miss a single week of income because God provided for the house sale. All these items were brought before God and He has provided in such special ways that I really have felt His presence meaningfully each day so that I feel loved! Praise and glory to our Father who cares and listens to our prayers!

Speaking Hope to the World

Things To Pray About:

My ministry partnership development: Will you prayerfully consider joining my team?

The team in Bonaire: For continued health and safety for them and their families and ministry partners.

Shedding Anchors: Praise God that I have sold my house, ended my job of 17 years, and am in the process of moving to Bonaire.

Listener's Story Corner

"Hi. I am a Baptist missionary on the island of Roatan, Honduras, some 1250 miles northwest of you. I just want to tell you that your signal on 800 AM comes in loud and clear here, starting around late dusk. Thanks and God bless you and your work. "

Meanwhile, on Bonaire, the team has been joined by interns and short-term workers to prepare the grounds, update the electrical distribution at the studio, and will be installing solar panels, where I enjoyed parking back in February, so that energy can be supplied by the abundance of sunlight there in Kralendijk. It is a very large project and their time has been full each day with all the individual jobs that are part of the whole.

Many hands make light work. This is the very concept of how everyone can contribute! Each one of you have an opportunity to take on a job and there are many positions yet to be filled that make up the whole of the ministry. These positions of ministry partners are extremely important. Please pray and consider contributing as a partner so that I can go and remain in Bonaire as their site engineer. The team needs me there in September and time is very short! Together, we can reach that goal.
