TWR Now in 300+ Languages!

Now more than ever, it's essential to reach people around the world for Jesus in their heart languages. Thanks largely to increased efforts to share the gospel with more people groups in India and the South Asia region, TWR is now speaking hope globally in more than 300 languages and dialects!

While the majority of the 300 languages and dialects are broadcast over TWR's international network of high-powered transmitters and through connections with local stations, some are distributed exclusively in online programming or on digital recordings played on audio devices.

Since its first broadcasts in French, Spanish and English in 1954, TWR has endeavored to fulfill Jesus' mandate to make disciples of all nations by sharing the gospel in media users' own languages.

When it comes to the importance of hearing the good news in one's heart language, consider this testimony from a listener in Egypt: "Your program was given to me as a gift from God when I was in need of spiritual food, and it was the first and only source of encouragement for my faith after I received the Lord Jesus into my heart."

At the core of TWR's online programming is the web-based portal TWR360. Offering abundant Scripture-based audio, video and text for on-demand use, TWR360 in April added its 100th language!

Home Assignment

We couldn't do what we do without God going before us and a team of encouragers behind and beside us. (That includes you!)

Home Assignment enables in-person ministry updates with folks and churches who support us, as well as sharing our work with new folks. Lord willing, we will be in Pennsylvania from mid-October to the end of December. The time will be shorter because our Cyprus visas require us to return within 90 days, one month less than our usual timeframe.

Regardless, we hope to spend time with as many of you as possible. We appreciate your prayers as we schedule meetings and for our travels.

A response to the Women of Hope Farsi program:

"Hello, I was feeling so alone and everything was so meaningless for me. But in the program you talked about hope. It gave me courage again and hope. I know that we do not belong to this world and that I am not alone in this world. He's going to strengthen me. But sometimes we forget this very easily, it's good to have people who remind you the truth. Thank you."

What We're Doing

Randy has been busy assisting colleagues around Europe and beyond with requests submitted through our IT Helpdesk, as well as recommending and ordering equipment for the new global payout system.

Cristy is assisting with coordination of the next

TWR Europe Webinar on June 15 and preparing for the Partner Conference to be held September 7-10. (More about that next time.)

Please pray that the 100+ participants can meet together again in Slovakia. The decision to be onsite or online must be made soon.

Missions Work?

If you are even slightly familiar with TWR's ministry, you might know that there are endless ways and possibilities to serve the Lord. What amazed us when we first looked into missions was that we could continue using our skills and talents to help impact people's lives with the gospel of Jesus; people all over the world!

If you or someone you know is looking for a direct way to serve the Lord, whether as an intern or for a short term or long term, I encourage you to check out and share this link to the Serve page on TWR's web site: <https://www.twr.org/serve>

Talk about possibilities! The list of roles that need to be filled is not endless but I stopped counting at 100; positions from accounting and electrical engineering to journalism and mechanic to videographer and web designer! Specific criteria can be selected to refine your search, which is very helpful.

And to clarify, living overseas is not a prerequisite to serving. There are plenty of opportunities in our Cary, North Carolina, office. One fun possibility is with our video team, TWR Motion. They're looking for an animator and illustrators: twrmotion.org

THANK YOU!

Thank you for coming alongside us and encouraging us with your financial support/gifts and much cherished prayers. By this, you are allowing God to use you to touch countless lives with His message of love and forgiveness! We hope what we share helps strengthen your connection with Jesus.

So thankful for you!

Love and hugs,
Randy and Cristy
