Different Equipment and People, Same Message

Greetings from Guam everyone. We are so grateful for your prayers and support.

We really appreciate your prayers for our move. We are very thankful for various people from church and work who helped us in different ways during the moving process (finding boxes for us, helping us pack, and/or helping us move). If you want to have our mailing address, but you did not receive the email we sent with the address on it, please email us at the address below, or contact MTW or TWR to get it from them. If your church supports us, you can also ask your church secretary or missions' committee. Thanks for all of your prayers for the ministry. We are grateful for those of you who have given towards the generator project and/or the tower restoration project. May God multiply his blessings on you.

For years, we have been wanting to replace the main generator at KTWR. The current one is too small and is showing its age (27 years). The fundraising phase was surprisingly fast while getting to the point of signing a contract was not so fast. The good news is that we now have a pair of generators ordered to replace the old one. We also have ordered a 60kW replacement unit for the undersized (32kW) day time generator. We hope to get all three gensets installed by the time rainy season kicks in with full force. Not only does rainy season increase the need for back-up power, but transporting the new generators up a muddy gravel road to the station could be very challenging. Your prayers for this process would be appreciated.

We have had some departures from our staff in the last two months. Several of us are covering some of the tasks that had been done by those who left. Thankfully, a new missionary family will be arriving in June. We could use more career staff in several different roles at KTWR. Please pray that more laborers would respond to God's call to come to this field. Go to <https://www.twr.org/types-of-service> to learn about service opportunities.

We also have some short-term missionaries at KTWR this summer. An engineering intern and a finance intern will be working at the station for two months. A retired engineer and his wife are here for a few months. The engineering intern and the retired engineer will be working on ways to improve our transmitter tuning hardware as well as how we test it. The finance intern will work with our senior accountant on budget projects.

Please pray for TWR as we strive to improve the reach of the unchanging message of salvation through Christ in this region.

Mission 66

Much of the following is from TWR's website. It describes a new program that KTWR broadcasts to China.

Under communism, believers in China have suffered persecution for decades. But lately, it's getting much worse. Now, Bible purchases online are banned. And while enforcement varies by area, we've learned of churches being demolished, missionaries being forced to leave, and religious books being removed from stores and online platforms.

Because of increasing censorship, biblical teaching that's uncensored and unfiltered is getting harder to find in China. People may come to Christ but search in vain for spiritual nourishment. And what they may find might not be the whole truth. To confront this challenge, TWR has created Mission 66 — a series of 613 programs in Mandarin that guides listeners through all 66 books of the Bible.

We'll be broadcasting this teaching series via shortwave radio from KTWR. It will take 2-1/2 years to air all of these programs. This is a media which authorities are unable to censor. So, the Christian message can get through despite the opposition!

While the programs have already been produced, there is still funding needed to cover the broadcast costs. If you believe the Lord might be leading you to help in this ministry project, please check out the project at www.twr.org.
